Well this is it yet another issue of EAT SHIT (god I've got to do something about that name.) Well this issue has by no means been a one person effort, the thanx list isn't obligatory, it's from the heart. If you want to make a contribution to the next issue, or just wanna write saying what you think, then drop us a line. We can't guarantee we will print everything, but if you don't send it there will be no way we can print it.We are expecting to sell less of this zine because it isn't crammed with "massive" anarcho bands' names, but lets face it when punk becomes nothing but music then it's well and truly dead, no matter how many records are selling.
Well I hope this zine provides a bit of food for thought,we will be embarking on a series of projects in the next couple of years so look out for our flyers in the mail in the near future. If you reckon you could flog copies of this zine get in touch, £3.00 gets you 11 post free....
Remember we may not have a revolution by being vegan and squatting and "changing ourselves ", but if we get out of the ghetto, anything is possible. Don't eat their shit.FIGHT BACK and DON'T LET THE BASTARDS GRIND YOU DOWN.

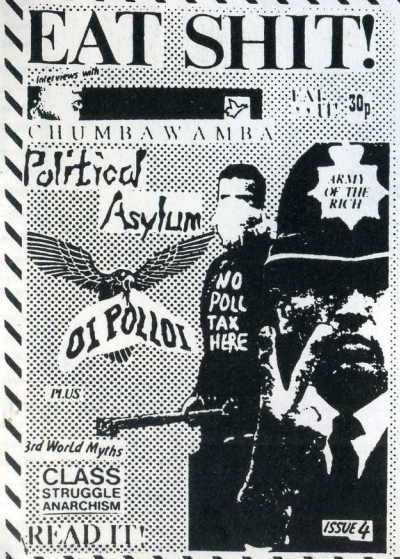
All unfit for human consumption

Hello: Lots of people in Bristol,Duncan,Paul and Deb,Ramsey(a.k), Al<I.A.>,Bristol Fed, All the people I write to.
NO THANX TO: Anyone who claims authority over anyone else or sexist, racsist homophobic sickos.



A MESSAGE TO MEMBERS OF MILITANT

Many of you will have been involved in the Battle of Trafalgar Square, defending yourselves and your friends against the police and expressing your justifiable class anger at this sick system where profit is more important than human need. But what has the response been of your leaders?

"We condemn it totally...200 to 250 of these individuals intent on causing trouble". (Tommy Sheridan, BBC, 31st March).

"We are going to hold our own internal inquiry which will go public and if necessary name names". (Steve Nally, ITN, 1st April).

"Our Federation is going to be conducting an internal inquiry to try and root out the troublemakers". (Tommy Sheridan, LWT News, 1st April).

These are not "misquotes" or "words taken out of context". They are direct from the horses mouth. They clearly show the basic nature of Militant Tendency: an organisation that is opposed to the working class fighting back. We realise that many people join Militant Tendency thinking that it is a working class organisation. We believe that the events in Trafalgar Square and subsequent statements after it by certain prominent individuals within Militant Tendency show that this is not the case. If anyone has joined Militant Tendency thinking it is a genuine working class organisation, we ask them to think again.

FIGHT THE POWER FIGHT THE POLICE FIGHT BACK !

Since the formation of a police force by Robert Peel in the early 19th century (first of all in Ireland,then the rest of Britain),the role of the police force has been dubious. If the police is impartial then why do we constantly hear of deaths in custody,tens of people killed in car chases and convictions that they are unsafe The reason is that the police force is a reflection of the state as a whole.It is corrupt,sexist,racist and its basic role is to support the ruling class in keeping people in their proper place, in the shit.
The police are not there to protect us and our homes from attack(well they are if you live in a mansion but not in council estate)so who,are communites meant to turn to when they come under attack from the police?
It is up to us to protect our communities from police attacks and to fight back at their attempts to criminalising different sections of the working class.At present, the police are trying their hardest to imprison those arrested for the many reactions against the poll tax.These people aren't criminals unless it's a crime to fight for our freedom against great odds and to help others being attacked by the forces of law and order.

We must resist these attempts. Most offenders are the result of such serious crimes such as not paying bills,trying to fight for an existence in this biased,corrupt world.We dont see the rich such as those who worked for Guinness and conned the City being kept on remand for 2 years or being housed in overcrowded,shittey, degrading prisons.They are sent to low security open prisons and are allowed to go out to barbecues.Other prisoners are attacked by the system both physically and mentally.

At every opportunity we must expose the injustices of ordinary people at the hands of our impartial and universally respected police force. The same police force who have learnt all they know from the training ground of northern Ireland.Plastic bullets, surveillance, interrogation, imprisonment for no reason have been tested on the Irish people fighting back against the British state.
There is a massive catalogue of events which has led to household names such as the Guilford four and the Winchester three, to name just a few whom have been released after serving time for something they did not do.The Birmingham six ,and there are those who have felt the iron fist of the west midlands serious crime squad-the list is endless.If this is evidence of a few bad apples then the obvious conclusion can only be that the whole barrel is rotten.
The Police complaints authority (C.P.A) investigates complaints but it is coppers looking into the wrongs done by other coppers. They will close ranks in the face of adversity to protect their own.The police inevitably use lower rank officers as scapegoats but all coppers start in the lower ranks, learn their vile trade and work upwards into major positions of power. The present metropolitan police Commissioner,Peter Imbert, handled the interrogation of the guilford four back in 1974.Enough said.
Although we must highlight the injustices caused by the police,we musn't stop there. We must go on the offensive, stop these crimes before they happen,we don't need the police,they stop the discontent of the working classes against living conditions and the lack of rights by calling it lawlessness. Communities must empower themselves to breakdown the domination of the ruling classes and their violent repressive police force.The police have one role and one role only,to uphold the law and the dominant position of the ruling class.

Letters

Here is a sample of some of the more thought provoking and interesting letters we have recevied in the last few months,we cant garrentee to print all letters but if you want to write us a contribution then feel free.

Dear readers of Eat Shit,
Here is an article thing on what life is like in Belfast,

A GREAT PLACE TO LIVE
'Crap!' The chinese take-away is not open yet, so I stand outside waiting, an OAP going past says, 'they won't be open luv, they all got shot last night,'"Oh crap" that means going to the chippy, who thinks vegetarians eat dead fish instead of cows. Yes that was my first thought, I did not ask if they were dead or not,n or did I ask who shot who and why? Well this is North Belfast we've got the highest shooting rate in N Ireland. Just incase anyone wants to know, it was 3 chinese blokes, shot in the legs by the U.V.F No reason was given. Most likely, Not paid the 'insurance' this week. They were open again a few days later. But this is still a great place to live.

A few days later, late to sign on, The bus just sitting there in the line of cars waiting for the (SS) R.U.C. road block to let a few more through. Some cars are just waved through, some just show I.D, others have their boot checked for bombs. Daft really, The I.R.A. handbook Rule #1 'always keep bomb under the passenger seat', everyone knows it, but the (SS) R.U.C. never check there.

Anyway,I get off the bus thinking I'll walk the last bit to the DHSS, but some young cop finds this a bit strange, so he stops me and asks what I think I'm doing? 'Name and address' he says, so I tell him. 'where are you coming from and going to' You have to answer that, so 'Home to sign on', "Age please" he says, 'I don't have to tell you!' "21" he guesses wrongly I'm not saying' "Occupation?", 'Poet', I tell him."But you said you were going to sign on", 'unemployed Poet!'. He then checks all this over the radio, By which time the bus has fucked off. I checked OK. so he says "thank you sir.., By the way your 22", To which I laugh ' is that what your files say, fucking great!' and walk off laughing. Still a great place to live. I could go on like this all day , but I won't.

But I will leave you with the Question I was asked by a member of the 'Ulster Independence Committee' as he tried to sell me a copy of his paper 'Ulster Patriot' (He had no hope at 50p) Q. "Well sir if most Anarchists support A united Ireland what would you do if we got an Independent Anarchist Ulster tomorrow, hand it over to the Capitalist south, or what if the whole of the UK went Anarchist today would you hand these six counties over to the Marxist I.R.A or to the south. Well he gave me a free copy of his paper (fool) which was full of shit and even used some National Front (now called Third Way) artwork in it.

STUART

Dear E.S,
Its me again! Thanx A million for the zine, Its brill!!! The "conflict" Bit was interesting for sure!! Really I enjoyed reading it alot , thanx again So how's life treating you? OK I hope, still fighting the bloody Poll Tax, Eh.
The situation here in Israel sure is fucked up, a lot of hate and murder between Jews and Arabs . Yesterday 3 people (jews) were murdered by an insane Arab, also a couple Lynch Cases (from both sides), a crazy jew murdered 7 arabs with a machine gun etc... The situation is Fucking crazy, A lot of mutual hate and without a solution in sight I'm afraid, its quite dangerous now to travel in the capital a crazy jew murdered 7 arabs with a machine gun etc... The situation is Fucking crazy, A lot of mutual hate and without a solution in sight I'm afraid, its quite dangerous now to travel in the capital of Israel, Jerusalem.
The government has started to issue Gas Masks to the population due to Saddams threatenings.
I should be getting mine soon and you know what?
Surprisingly there isn't any fear in the air, and it some how isn't mentioned here a lot, but I'm sure that there'll be a war,there isn't any escape now, the same countries that made Iraq powerful and dangerous (by selling him weapons during the Iran Iraq war and while he was slaughtering the Kurdish and cashing from war and death) Are now the same ones fighting him, not coz of the freedom VS oppression bullshit leaders tell, but coz of this artificial country which means cheap oil for western Capitalism, but you probably know that don't you ? I do get carried away sometimes , sorry.!!
Stay Free and Be Happy
Santi

Dear Read it /eat shit readers,
The war that is exploding in the Gulf is a class war.It is being fought by the armies of working class soldiers on behalf of the managing directors of oil companies and the rulers of the u.s.a. and Britain
It's the working class that will do the dying.Thats why working class people in this or any other country have nothing to gain from this war. Class war,the only war worth fighting for.

The free by M.Gilland Attack International

This book is in my opinion,the best anarchist fiction I have read,its recently been republished by Attack since all copies on Hooligan press have all sold out long ago.
"I seen all this coming for a long ,long time.I seen us reduced to begging and i seen the coppers raiding,I seen them destroying the houses and i seen the prisons filled up till bursting.I have seen the youth pulling thier bonds and longing to be free"
This is Lindas story ,there is one thing Linda knows about and that is the longing to be free.Everywhere she turns,shes hemmed in:by her teachers,her Dad,by everyone who labels her a "bad girl".But when she starts to fight back by giving Sister Bernadette,her teacher in a convent a right hook,things really start to change........
Lindas epic story is shared with Barney,Macker and thousands of others.They are "The Free",spreading their co-ops and free unions accross the country this book charts their rise and eventual fate in a stunning,powerful tale of love and longing,anger and rebellion.Along the way it gives a glimpse of the brilliant new world waiting to be built on the ashes of the old.A truly exciting book set in the very near future,as you get near the end it makes your hands shake and brings you out into a cold sweat.Very inspiring stuff indeed.

SEX, LIES AND CENSORSHIP

From politicians to the media to schools, all tell us "sex is something bad for your health and not to be enjoyed".

Who's Responsible?

They're right in many ways, as for a lot of us sex is the most traumatic negative experience imaginable. But the question to ask is – Who's responsible for this? One example is so-called sex education in schools. This has more to do with trying to make sure we end up in, "happy, married families" with no other form of relationship being acceptable. Sex is shown to be about reproduction and sexual diseases, rather than something to gain pleasure out of.

The media also play their part, portraying men and women in roles unimaginable in real life (only 26% of the population live in conventional nuclear families). Women bear the brunt of this sexual stereotyping, constantly being shown as sexual objects available to be used and abused by men. In short, sex in the media fosters exploitative relationships rather than equal pleasurable ones.

Guilt

As for the church, sex has always been a dirty word, with the whole emphasis towards encouraging guilt, confusion and suppression around sexuality. Their idea of healthy sex is making babies under the consent of marriage. It's easy to say "who listens to these religious bigots?" but they do still have a hold on people's lives.

But at the end of the day, people do cut through the bullshit they try to feed us, with sex being central to many of us as a means for pleasure and comfort.

This isn't ignoring the misery and frustrations it causes: sexual abuse, rape and impotency to name but a few, but these are all a product of how our sexuality is repressed and manipulated by those in power. Lots of us are rejecting the constraints and bigotry being fostered around us, making sex what it should be – something to mutually share and enjoy with whoever and however we please.

Sex can be magic when we start to break free!

Dear readers of eat shit/read it,
Unity?Punk rock 15 years on ...what's changed..nothing for the good..we've fucked up our scene with more and more factions the straight edge, the crusties,the punk ect and all because of the music we listen to.What the funk is going on?Music is important but not if we are going to sit on our arses listening to music and arguing over various styles!The way we dress is also a great way to isolate people...If you are a crusty your not worth knowing if you are a straight edger Fuck you!Correct me if I am wrong but wasn't the scene supposed to be about unity?Aren't we all supposed to be pissed off with the so called caring society?Well where is the unity?All I see is factions, a divided movement of people all with the same message no matter how blured or clear we all want the same thing!Don't scream about unity....unity doesn't exist!Listen to your music..Take hold of the message and maybe you can claim to be united...think about it!Musical factions will keep us un united forever till were all pick up on the fact that we all want the same thing.COMMUNICATION NOT ISOLATION.

TIN O.D.

Dear readers of eat shit.
McDONALDS GETS McNASTY
Six years ago London Greenpeace,a small independent collective, initiated a campaign against McDonald's, the giant fast food corporation. A world day of action was organised for every 16th October,the United Nations 'World food day', and a factsheet was produced-'Whats wrong with McDonalds?' The response has been brilliant,and there is now a massive campaign involving thousands of people and hundreds of groups throughout the world.
So worried are the McGarbage food producers that they infiltrated the meetings of London Greenpeace and followed people to there homes, before serving them with writs alleging libel in the fact sheet,demanding damages and costs,and seeking an end to the campaign.
McDonald's know they are guilty,and not the caring, green company they try to make out, so they have turned to the legal system to suppress free speech and fair criticism.Here they do not have to prove anything,it is those being sued who have to prove everything, and not just with quotes and sources, but with witnesses and experts. All this takes lots of time and money.Legal aid is not available for libel, so the system is weighted in favour of the wealthy, and they dont come much wealthier than McDonald's who in 1989 had total sales totalling over £17 billion.In contrast, those being sued are unwaged.
McDonalds may win in the courts, but we can win on the streets.
What McDonalds most fear is bad publicity and loss of custom. The fight against their evil empire must continue,the campaign needs your support;-

THE EX

The EX are a Dutch band with an impressive track record with 20 bits of vinyl on their own label over the past ten years, their powerful blend of music, politics and artwork has led people to compare them to CRASS,but I think it would be unfair to put them in this mould as this band have truly done it them selves,besides their sound and visual live shows are uncomparable.Thanx to Buck for interviewing them for me,thanx to Jos for answering them in Amsterdam at the end of November 1990.

EAT SHIT:The EX what does it mean?(if anything)
JOS:It doesn't anything specific, therefore it's rather timeless(and we wanted a name like that).
E.S.After the new single "Stonestampers song" are there any plans to release an L.P. soon?
JOS:As you noticed I'm about six months late with replying toyour questions,but the answer is yes .After the single we released a 10" six track l.p. called "dead fish". Right now (end of november we are preparing to record a new album in January '91,together with the cello-player Tom Cora Skeleton crew).And at the same time we are starting to re-release our older deleated albums. "Pokkeherrie" from 1985 is the first one, it will be available again in December.Also we are going to release a series of six singles throughout 1991,i.e. one every two months, with guest-musicians and special inserts, like a sort of magazine.And people can subscribe,too,if they want (will be about £13). People interested should write to us. Single number one will be out in February.
E.S:There have been squatters riots in Amsterdam-whats the situation now?

JOS.The squating movement has grown smaller,because of the changes in laws(closing down loop holes) it's been made more difficulty to keep the squats occupied.I'ts been far easier for the house owner to kick the squatters out soon after occupation.To squat new buildings has therefore become so much more of a hassle in the last couple of years, it also demands a lot of ones time and energy, trying to keep the police out and the people trying to get the house somehow legalised.Theres still a lot of people willing to give it a try,but somehow on a smaller scale.

E.S:What do you think of the new "freedom" in Eastern Europe? Does it affect the Netherlands?
JOS:I can understand that the people there wanted to get rid of that dictatorial system (which didn't really have anything to do with "communism" at all, actually), but it is sad they walked into the other trap with there eyes open. Also the racist and nationalistic tendencies that occurred after the "revolutions" everywhere, show that the people there have to deal with the same stupid people problems , as we do over here.Intolerance and greed will be shaking hands now in an even bigger part of the world. Eastern Europe means a very cheap business trip in other peoples misery. THe multinationals will take control and the wages will be low, As one can see the unification of East and West Germany, West Germany takes control and the East Germans are the new Turks, the new cheap labourers on the capitalist market.
E.S.Do you think the British people will pay the Poll Tax--what type of local government tax do you have to pay in Holland?
JOS:I think a lot of people will pay, but I hope that there will remain enough resistance, so that the tax-collectors and the government will get totally fucked up and pissed off with it, so that they may change this state organized crime against the people. It shows the decline of the ruling classes' common sense. They're even more ruthless than I feared they'd be. I don't know what local government tax is over here(I can't pay it anyway, as I don't have the money.)
E.S:How well do your records sell?
JOS:Just enough to be able to keep recording and releasing new ones. I think we sell about 3000 copies per LP worldwide, and about 1500 copies per single. Thats O.K. by us anyway, we don't feel any urge to grow bigger and bigger. We just like to do what we want.

NEW HORIZONS IN RETAILING
EX

JOS:Green issues are bigger than say a year ago, but a lot of it has to do with opportunism. Stick a green label on your product and you notice that it's gonna sell better. On the other side, people are taking more notice of environmentalist issues and are more conscious about buying more clean products. A bit too late though, I'm afraid, as the Club of Rome warned the world already in 1961 that we were exhausting the worlds resources too fast.

E.S:Where will The EX be in the year 2000 AD?

JOS:At home, on tour, or doing other things. Not necessarily as a music group, we might be busy doing other things, like writing, or film making or whatever. We are not really thinking in such long term planning formats.

E.S:What music, bands are you listening to at the moment?

JOS:Speaking for myself I listen to bands like Alice Donut, No Means No, Fugazi and especially Tragic Mulatto. But also East European folk music , or certain jazz artists. What the others listen to I don't know exactly, but apart from the things I just mentioned there taste is more varied than mine (although I am improving!).

E.S:What criticisms do you have of Britain?

JOS:It took them far too long to get rid of that preposterous idiot at number10.She's so absolutely horrifyingly ruthless and without feelings, that I can'tunderstand why even the tories didn't say "fuck off" to her sooner.Apart from that I think England should not shake hands with Iran against Iraq,because this means they are just playing tricks with Salman Rushdie's life.And the pubs close early too.

E.S:What will happen in the 90s?

JOS:I'm glad I just don't know.

E.S:You sing quite a lot of your songs in English, why is this?

JOS:There's more people understanding English than Dutch. Also we feel more convenient singing in English, we think it goes better with the music than any other language. But if we feel like it, we might use other languages as well, or other instruments (as language, too, is nothing but an instrument).

E.S:Are green issues big news in Holland?Do you see it as just another product or will environmentalism produce real change?

E.S:There has been a lot of talk recently (in the U.K.) about what is happening in N.Ireland. How do you view the IRA, Sinn Feinn, Troops Out, etc...?

JOS:First I must say, that I do not know exactly which organisation stands for what. But despite everything , what I see there is a civil war, no matter what the British Government tries to deny. I think the British troops should get out of N.Ireland (just like Iraq should get out of Kuwait, Israel out of the Occupied Territories, the USA out of Panama and Grenada.) But also,I think that the situation has passed the point that violence will solve anything, and I am afraid all the killings of soldiers and civilians won't make this moment get any nearer. I do not see any solution withinsight (and I wish I did).

E.S.How do you see the drug problem?How is semi-legalisation worked in the Netherlands?

JOS:Sure there is a Drugs problem over here. Especially with heroin and cocaine and such.While there illegal,which makes the prices go up enormously, thus making it interesting for criminals.But then again,there are also a lot of other such as coffee alcohol and tabacco, and they're a big problem too,but not considered as such,while the government profits from the taxes.The real problem,however is drug addiction, when the drugs take control of your life.

As for semi-legalisation, it works quite well. Cannabis is a harmless drug(unless you take too much of it,but eating too much chocolate makes you sick also)It doesn't fuck people up like, say, alcohol and with cannabis being more or less legal,its easy to get good quality for a low price, which means less illnesses and no hassle with criminals and heavy dealers.

.S.What issues are y'all hinking about at the moment?

OS:Oops, difficult to say eally. But to mention a few; he Middle East affair,the nvolvements of the Dutch ecret agents bureau (the utch "CIA", the BVD) within he peace and green groups those idiots are looking for errorists there!). Thatcher ut hurray but who's next oh hit no change for the better 'm afraid. I've got to finish his interview because I'm ying for a meal.

.S:What makes you laugh?

OS:Any good joke, Blackadder, onty Python(still), Spike ones, unsuspected great mounts of money in my ockets, a live gig by Shrug they're brilliant), a stroke f luck, a good book or movie, acques Tati, Karl valentin, a ickle at the right moment in he right place.

MINDS MADE UP

I was born on the twelfth of July
And I know what I must do
Is to live for and die for
Auld Englands red white and blue

My minds made up for me
Since the day that I was born
I was born a prod
my fate has been decided on

And I was born on St paddys day and I don't have to be told That'll live for and die for Irelands green white and Gold

My minds made up for me
since the day that I was born
I was born a Taig,. I'll die a Taig
My fate has been decided on

And I was born In Birmingham
And if my dad will let me
I'm going down the job centre
To sign up with the army

My minds made up now
Since they promised me a gun
I'll kill some Taigs and I'll kill some prods
Their fate has been decided on

And I'm a politician
And I simply ignore all of this
There is no 'Irish' problem
It just does not exist

BURN IN HELL THATCHER/MAJOR GENERAL DESPAIR

My minds made up now
since that thatcher came along
She said kill them all and be done with them
Their fate has been decided on

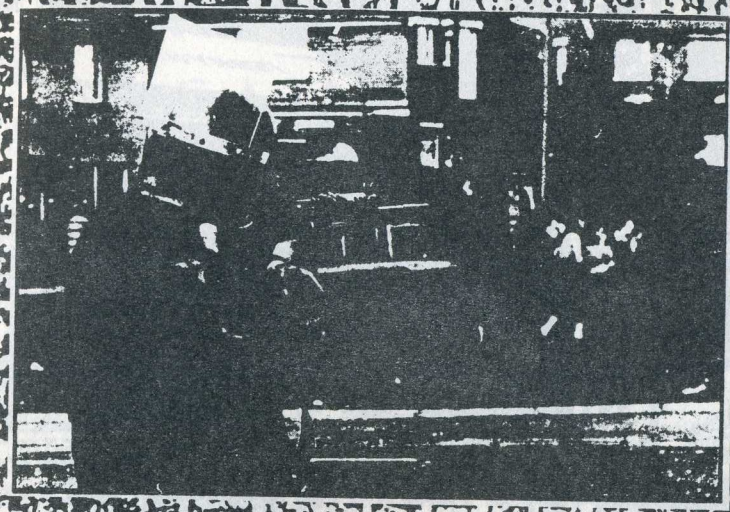
You may sit in ignorance
They say ignorance is bliss
But ignorance is no excuse
For a hundred orphaned kids

It's not that far away
But its not shown on your TV
Cos A governments main purpose
Is to show you what to believe

Many families are fatherless
Cos daddy had a cause
Many parents mourn their kids
Because of unjust laws

THE GRANDMASTER

THIS IS FACT..
Censorship on N.Ireland goes to extremes you'd not believe



The governments not looking for answers, it's looking to deceive
To trick the British people to thinking not much is wrong
There is no war, no oppression and hardly any bombs
They'll tell you that we're happy living under British rule
And if you believe that, you really are a fool
Fly the flag, smile and wave the camera cannot lie.

And tell us not to worry when another innocent dies
Well,I know the truth that you're not allowed to see
And this, I tell you, you simply must believe
There's blatant oppression to both religions
Internment without trial, systematic incarceration
Women searched by men in jails, wearing plastic gloves
Wardens laugh amongst themselves, another Irish joke
There's shoot to kill and worry about it later
The victims weren't even armed when they were shoot down in Gabralter.

There's riots at funerals with intruders ripped to shreds
Dignity's not in our dictinoary--not even in death
Long Kesh is going but the memory will remain
Of all the years of torture, humiliation and pain
There's paramilitary forces selling info to the army
There's three innocent men gunned down outside Killarney
There's rows and rows of fucking graves that needn't be there at all
And these are just statistics in Belfast City Hall
So if you're minds made up about what exactlys going on
I'm afraid I've got to let you know, you'll have to think again
Catholic or Protestant, Shamrock or Red Hand
You're countries screwing my country and many other lands.
THE GRANDMASTER.

CONFLICT

AGAINST ALL ODDS

Against all odds 1990 saw many changes,vegetarianism reached an all time high,the green issue is known now as nothing more than common sense.The A.L.F. in the headlines again, but as usual for all the wrong reason.The Berlin wall crumbled as the pressure of those fighting for freedom and the most humble of human rights finally proved too much.Britain no, longer an island,the first stage of the tunnel is completed. Thatcherisum turns into the major general,the poll tax is finally enforced, and brought about sincere unity not witnessed since the stop the city campaigns. The battle of trafalgar,non payment, bailiff busting are just the tip of the ice -burg.Ultra left wing tossers like the Militant and the R.C.P. were as usual more concerned with selling newspapers and sticking their infantile posters all over the fucking place while those who despise their parties expressed their opinions firmly and respectfully. Conflict as a group went through their worst year to date,with 1990 becoming the first year the group had not appeared in public.On Monday 4th of December 1989,Colin,Pacco and Steve were arrested in London and charged with causing an affray with actual bodily harm on two police officers.The police claiming it was a revenge attack,and were taking the matter to the crown courts for trial by jury,in the hope of putting certain group members behind bars for a long time.They failed but the trial lasted eight months,and there was no way the group could give the police any further ammunition.The group members are at present suing the police for false arrest,imprisonment and defamation of character. Everything for 1990 obviously had to be delayed,we had been lucky in the past,i.e. Surbition, Leeds, Brixton.

The animal rights side to the band continued, and a benefit album titled this is the A.L.F. was released and then quickly band as animal rights groups caused explosions through the U.K.The other record released during 1990 was a Mortorhate compilation of some of the deleted E.P.s titled'A compilation of deleted dialogue'.
The trial now behind us we are now trying to pick up the pieces,we have not seen certain group members for over a year,and obviously some rehearsing had to be arranged.A set of concerts were planned for February,but due to the Gulf crisis,these have had to be put back till april with most venues not wanting an anti state band playing while the country is in Conflict.'
1991 will see many events in the U.k.Europe and the U.S.A., and a new L.P. will be released this summer.

Take care CONFLICT

The next Conflict L.P. will be titled 'THESE COLOURS DON'T RUN'

KRONSTADT CLUB: AN OBITUARY

The Kronstadt club started in 1988.Then Bristol hardly existed on the map as far as punk/hardcore/Alternative gigs and clubs were concerned. Boredom was, if not ruling, certainly planning a take over.Moaning about the lack, or distance, of gigs,groaning about the prices.Going to a club meant either to make friends with a bunch of blads or hobnobbing it with students.

Finally a group of people couldn't take it no more and decided to start their own club,dedicated to the higher purpose of getting more good bands to play in Bristol (as the club would choose them),at a much lower door price,as everyone would work for nothing.(Sometimes the last was hard to explain to the bands who went home with hardly their travelling expenses paid for).

It sounded crazy to me at first.We had no money, hardly any contacts and next to no experience,but the 'Kronstadt Club'took off amazingly quick. 'DOOM' gloomed with the clubs first gig,a weekly night club spot then followed and we started to sell membership cards.More people got involved, the weekly meetings got bigger.People who used to do gigs chucked in their contacts and help.Promoters started to contact us directly we even began to have a reasonable float of money and so could take more risks with gigs by the end of 1988 we had a gig nearly every week. We had big plans like a national or even international gig network.The best part of 1989 was a fun year for the Kronstadt club,alas, all was not rosey in the alternative camp.From the outside the competition got bigger.Every John,Dick and Harry in town started to have alternative nights in clubs,only, they just wanted to make money from it.Other promoters put on hard core bands,'cos they shelled in dosh(especialy at commercial door prices).

The Kronstadt club had its own problems, one was communication as we didn't have an office we used private phone numbers and a box number address.Who evers phone number it was,was the first and often the only one to know what was happening,where and when.People in the group felt left out,or,as if they had to do all the work,depending on wether they did or did not have a phone.Letters often reached meetings on hear say and at times we had a strong suspicion they disappeared in the post.Another problem was finding the balance between bands,that pulled a crowd and so made some money and less heard of American or British bands,that hardly ever get a chance to play,but very often meant we lost money.

Then again people just had less time because they started work,got pissed off with each other,hated each others taste in music or were just plain bored with the whole thing. Finally the 'Kronstadt Club' died a death of apathJey and financial ruin.

KRONSTADT CLUB: AN OBITUARY

Still,it was fun as long as it went on.The last gig was two years after it started. Everyone involved learned how to organise a gig and hopefully some will do so.Things have quietned down in Bristol,lets all hope we get bored enough to get of our asses again.

Clubs like the kronstadt club could be easily started in most towns and cities. TA to birget for writing that for us,thanx.

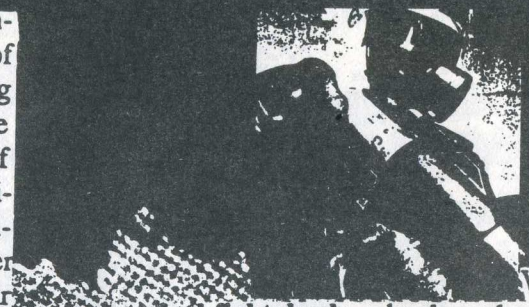
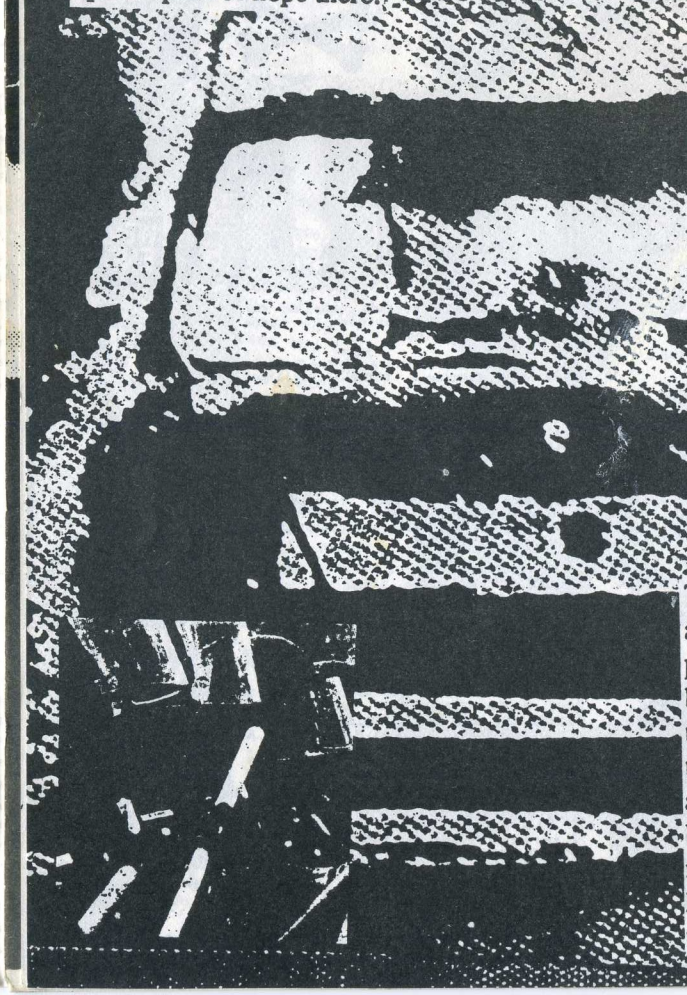
ATTACK

we have nothing to lose.

Fact: things are not going to improve, won't get better, if most of us sit on our arses all day tutting and whinging about the sorry state of the country and the drudgery of our lives. Fact: the so-called radical politicians don't care.As politicians they never have and never will, they're far away earning their thousands and having a good time getting pissed, getting their ugly, sneering mugs plastered all over the newspapers and the TV, and jetting off to exotic spots in the sun to renew the fading tan in time for the back-slapping Christmas knees-up.No spark of hope there.



We must fight back - hard, and with unswerving determination - have faith in ourselves, in our very real ability to forge a radically new era - and we have to act now , whilst theres still time.Its insane to await the crowning of hardliners before making a move, by then it will be too late, our class needs no leaders.So, stand up and be counted.Walk tall, alongside those who are already making a stand. Don't be frightened, the more who join in the struggle the less likely that individuals can be targeted by the State's lackeys; for us thats strength - for them its demoralising.



Remember that the Tory rich, the ruling class, are few and weak; weakened by gross privilege and centuries of being bone idle - depending on others to think for them, kill for them, feed them, clean and carry them along.When their foot-soldiers have been dealt with they'll be left, naked and alone, scurrying behind.Then, quite simply, its in for the kill - and won't they deserve it!

INSIDE OUT- DO IT YOURSELF NOSE JOB EP
I always look forward to hearing all female bands it makes a refreshing change to the thousands of all male thrash/punk bands. unfortunately INSIDE OUT are musically a bit of a disappointment, a very generic sound that doesn't really grab you at all. The lyrics make up for the music though, they do have something decent to offer, and with two journalists on the thanks list from Melody Maker on the sleeve, this looks like it'll be a big hype!!

BLOODBATH - GROUNDS FOR VIOLENCE .....DEMO
A 5-track from the USA , a well recorded demo and they obviously love their metal!! A four piece who play well constructed thrash metal, slightly reminiscent of EXODUS- style, with slices of METALLICA. THE POLL TAX RIOT,TEN HOURS THAT SHOOK TRAFALGAR SQUARE

On March the 31st well over 200,000 people dewmonstrated inLondon over the goverments sick idea called Poll Tax.The massive violent uprising that broke out that day led to millions of pounds worth of damage to Banks,expensive shops,restaurants,sports cars jewellers,very posh night clubs and the fortress style South African embassy.All the vandalism,burning and smashing was very discriminate,just about all targets were symbols of the ruling elite, unlike the police whose indiscriminate violence only surved to fan the flames of dicontent,yet further. The lies, misinformation and propaganda put out by the state and their lackies, the media, may turn history into thierstory this book addresses the balence with article by people who were there.The book contains some good lessons learnt from this riot and some excellent photos of the intence day.If you have no idea of what its like to be in a riot this is probably as close as you will get to the real thing without getting off ya arse.A brilliant book dedicated to all working class heroes.Send $4(includes postage to D.S.4.A. c/o Greenleaf bookshop Box8,82 Colston St,Bristol,Avon,u.k.

Firkin) are vastly over priced.
E.S.What do you think of the ALF. killing babies?
PHIL:Babies are animals too, so it's silly for the ALF to risk blowing them up. Media coverage gives the impression that anyone opposed to animal experiments is a raving extreme terrorist fanatic, which will deter a lot of people who might otherwise have got involved. If the ALF feel so strongly they should concentrate on damaging property and hassling the experimenters, causing them financial loss. YOU might be the innocent next time.....
BEN:In my opinion a sad mistake.I agree with Phil on this one.It's one thing making the headlines every few months for nearly killing a child,but their cause doesn't move anywhere but backwards as a result.
E.S.Does having the next world cup in the states frighten you?Will they distroy our national game?What will be the official haemaroid remover for the games?
RAT:It's only a game,but it'll be exploited in the states.But as long as the rules are the same I dont give a shit really.
CARL:The idea of America getting the Wold cup must mean the destruction of our national game.The're planning on splitting up the match into four segments,just so FIFA and the advertisers get more money-just like the olympics, just a wee hint of excrement.
BEN:The face of football has changed through the 80's.Players now wear sponsors names on their strip and earn vast funds for shouting at the ref.After the next world cup all soccer pitches will display the home teams insignia and name.On t.v. you will receive snatches of a match(through reams of adverts)with commentary shouted at you by a madman.The official HR will be Double big mac Hoarse burger with lashings of knackers yard mayonnaise.

E.S.You've put out a 12" and two demos.what do you think to these releases todate?Future plans?Anything else RAT:Demos are better than the single....you could put that down to experience we want to do a 7" but we have to sort the money and the distribution out.
Well if your interested in the herb gardens 12" and demos info gig ect write to Dave,53 Birchall Rd,Redland,Bristol,BS67DT

Dad's anger over punk band's sick stage act

By Karen White

A MOCK birth enacted by Bristol punk band The Herb Garden at Ashton Court Festival has been branded "sick and irresponsible" by shocked spectators.

The band upset visitors to the festival when one of its members a staged Cameroan birth involving buckets of fake blood and dyed spaghetti.

Mr Darren Dennis, of The Chimes, Flax Bourton, who took his three and five-year-old daughters to the community festival, said it was like something out of a video nasty.

"It involved a man being cut open to produce a garden gnome from his stomach amidst much screaming and blood," he said.

"Not only were my children upset by the event of tears but I feel that an otherwise well-organised and enjoyable family day out was tainted by this act of gross indecency."

Mr Dennis, spokesman, who did not want to be named, said it was not only offensive to children but to women in the audience who may have undergone similar operations.

New organisers of the festival, which this year attracted 80,000 people, say they will be speaking to the band in a bid to prevent a repeat spectacle next year.

Mr Simon Flynn, festival

Scene of controversy: A 'blood'-covered band member holds up the garden gnome after its 'birth' music co-ordinator, said: "We were not aware of the content of the band's act beforehand.

"It was unfortunate that they were on at the beginning of the festival when there were a lot of children around and I can understand why some people were upset.

But the band are unrepentant, saying the act was staged as a joke and that it was no more offensive than many things children could witness on TV or in films.

Guitarist Dave Crooks said: "It was never our intention to upset anyone.

"It was basically done as a joke and I think most people who were there would think it was quite funny."

CAPITALISM ANARCHISM

At work the wages we earn are just a fraction of what we produce: we may each build 20 or 30 video recorders a week, but we're lucky if our pay-packet will stretch to buying just one. As the working class, we create all the wealth in this society, but we do so only for the profit of the bosses. This is the essence of capitalism.

The 'boss class' own and control the means of production (land, machines, buildings, raw materials etc). For them, all production has a single aim: profit. For the sake of profit, whole mountains of food are destroyed, housing is left to rot, basic health care is denied to most of us, and the earth is plundered and poisoned. Meanwhile, billions are spent on the military and police to defend the privilege and power of the few. All around the world, capitalism offers us nothing except poverty, starvation, pollution, waste, war.... and Paul Daniels.

CLASS STRUGGLE

Ultimately capitalism will only be abolished by a revolution — overthrowing the whole social system and building a new world based on liberty, equality and social justice. We know that the bosses will not give up their power without a fight. It may seem crazy or cliched to talk of 'revolution', but it's much more ridiculous to carry on as we are. After all, we built this world. So why do we allow the bosses to steal it off us and then sell it back to us?

The word 'revolution' has come to mean all sorts of things to all sorts of people. It's an idea mocked and distorted by every government. Quite simply, revolution is about creating a better world for ourselves. Revolutions aren't about swapping one set of bosses for another. Real change will not come through Parliament, just as real justice won't be found in the courts. Like all State institutions, they exist simply to protect the bosses and deflect our anger. In the same way, real change won't come through any of the left-wing parties. They may slag off Parliament and the Labour Party, but in practice they share the same arrogant attitudes. They believe that we working class people are not capable of making a revolution: the 'revolutionary party' is there to do it on our behalf. Like Lenin and the Bolsheviks in Russia, they are parasites who just want to ride to power on the back of our struggle.

As anarchists, we know that real change only ever comes from below. As soon as we allow others to make our decisions for us, we have lost the fight. Lefty politicians and trade union bureaucrats will change nothing. And nor will those who campaign for change within the law. At the end of the day, these people have nothing to gain from a revolution. History shows time and time again that working class struggle has been most successful when we have worked by ourselves without the 'help' of these would-be leaders. Only we have the power to destroy this rotten system, and only we have the ability to build a better world, because only we have nothing to lose. Together we can create a world where production is organised for need not profit, and where real decision-making lies in the hands of working class people.
